

Professional Group Pictures with Photoshop Services

In this example, a group needed a professional photo for the cover of an upcoming publication. Unfortunately, one of the members of the group was going to be away during the group photoshoot so she was photographed earlier and photoshopped into the final group picture. The photo was taken on stage with all original background stripped away and an "English Garden" added. You can see the final photo submitted to the magazine and the cover produced from that photo.

